Lac la Biche Sea Cadets Launch New Exeter Craft

LAC LA BICHE.—The new Exeter, ship of the Lac la Biche Sea Caedts, is afloat after being launched and christened at a ceremony here attended by officers of the Royal Canadian Navy and the Navy League of Canada.

Rev. Father J. E. McCrane, builder and designer of the new boat, is the skipper of the Exeter, which replaces the one lost by Father McCrane and his cadets on an unsuccessful atempt to navigate the North Saskatchewan River last fall.

Navy officials atending the christening were led by Cmdr. Lyle Hoar, officer commanding H. M. C. S. Nonsuch Edmonton. Cmdr. Hoar flew by R.C.A.F. plane to Lac la Biche, accompanied by Lieut. Brownlow and WO. Fred Short. Lt.-Cmdr. S G. Coombs, area sea cadet officer, was also present.

Others atending were A. C. Emery, president of the northern Alberta division of the Navy League; C. B. Hill, chairman of the sea cadet committee and John Corbett, also of the Navy League.

The new Exeter follows the design of the Fairmile motor launch, used during the war by the Canadian Navy for coastal patrol work Its length is 32 feet and it has a nine foot, three inch beam. It is powered by an automobile engine and has a water draft of 14 inches.

Exhaust from the engine goes through a funnel and as the exhaust is water colled the heat of the engine turns to steam and the natty craft looks much like a steam vessel while under way.

In accordance with the Canadian navy custom there is a green maple leaf on each side of the funnel.

The ship is fully equipped electrically and also carries radio. It sails under the blue ensign, a privilige granted sea cadet vessels.

It was built at Lac la Biche by Father McGrane, commanding officer of the cadet corps, assisted by Lieut. Jack Wolstenholme and Charles Gustafson, the latter a shipbuilder who also made the original Exeter. The ship was started last August, and was completed recently.

Christening of the new vessel was by Cmdr. Hoar who broke the customary "champaigne" bottle across the bow of the ship. After the christening plaques bearing the ship's name were placed in position, and the blue ensign was run up. The ship was "dressed" with naval signal flags, and made its trial run with the commander aboard. A second run followed with R.C.M.P. officers aboard, with Navy League officials.

A "heavy sea" was running, but the new ship handled well and met the expectations of the builder and designer. After the ship was tied up at the government breakwater, the party adjourned to the sea cadet hut where a demonstration of radio, both transmiting and receiving by the cadets, was given.

Fire Victim Rushed To Edmonton Hospital

LAC LA BICHE. — A 10-year-old Lac la Biche boy, injured in a flash fire at his school 12 days ago, has been taken to Edmonton for treatment at the General hospital.

Ralph Koerner received severe leg burns May 18 when gasoline ignited to start a short blaze. The boy since then has been receiving treatment at the northern center. His condition became worse, however, and Monday's emergency flight became necessary.

A phone call was made to Edmonton and A. R. Porter, Associated Airways pilot made the trip. The plane left Municipal Airport at 11:00 a.m. and the return trip was made in 1 1-2 hours.

The plane was met at the airport by Jack Hays ambulance and the boy was brought to the General Hospital where treatment commenced Tuesday.

United Church Marks 29 Years of Service

LAC LA BICHE.—The Lac La Biche congregation of the United Church of Canada was first organized in 1921 under an interested group of residents who were anxious for Protestant services in the district.

In that year subscriptions were received for a building fund. The house of Mr. L. Nicholas was purchased and was extensively remodled to form the present church building. The church was first located on a site opposite the local cemetery, and was moved to its present location in 1937. The church was first organized as the Protestant Union Church of Lac la Biche and letters were sent to both the Church of England and the Methodist Church with a view to obtaining the services of a minister. The Methodist church responded and a student was sent out the following sumer, a Mr. Gilroy. It was soon found to be advisable to have the church property registered in the name of one of the recognized church bodies, and the property was duly registered in the name of the Methodist Church of Canada under the advice of Dr. Powell, then superintendent of Missions for the Methodist church in Alberta.

The church building was completed in 1924, and entered into the United Church in 1925. However, church union was already in effect in this community, and the union of parent bodies was greatly welcomed. Work was done on the manse in 1929. In 1930 permission was also granted to the Church of England that should they send up a student he would be quite welcome to use the United Church for his services and that was the practise for the number of years until the Anglican Communion established their own church building.

Rev. Wesley Bainbridge, now of McDougall United Church Edmonton was the student in 1926. Mr. Symington in 1928; Mr. William Taylor in 1929; Mr. W. Davies in 1930; Mr. Martin, 1931; Mr. Stobie, 19332; Mr. Wragg, 1934; Mr. Whitehouse in 1935; Mr. J. A. McKim in 1937 and 38; Mr. H. G. Dobson in 1939; Mr. H. Cantelon, 1941. Mr. Brownhill was the student in 1945, Mr. Williams in 1946; Mr. D. Greenough in '47 and '48; Mr. K. Lee in 1949 and Mr. D. A. Greenough in 1950. The church was without workers during the years 1942 and 43 due to war conditions.

Speaks To W.I. On Mental Health

LAC LA BICHE.— A well attended meeting was held on Monday May 29 in the Lac la Biche school on "Mental Health" sponsored by the local Women's Institute. Dr. Martin M. Gish, one of the psychiatrists at the Oliver Mental Institute was the guest speaker. He was assisted by Mr. E. J. Kibblewhite, psychologist, and Mr. R. N. Crawford, a sociologist. Dr. Alan Brinsmead officiated as chairman of the meeting.

Dr. Gish spoke at length on juvenile delinquency, stressing the fact that the majority of maladjusted children came from broken homes, or homes where the relationship between the parents leaves much to be desired. In dealing with children he spoke of the necessity of a consistency in punishment. If the child is to be properly disciplined. Harsh punishment followed by the apology of the parents defeats itself, and is ineffective. The child must also be made to feel a sense of security in the home, hence a harmonious home is a necessity for the development of a sound healthy mental condition in the child. Dr. Gish also spoke on the causes and treatment of schitzophrenia and other mental diseases. He also descibed the use of shock treatment for the curing of such illnesses.

The lecture was followed by a discussion period in which such questions as the part played by heredity in insanity, the upbringing of children, etc. were raised. The meeting concluded with appropriate words of thanks on behalf of the chairman.

Alberta Pioneers of 1950

Alberta has been the home of Europeans for about 200 years, and already its history is rich in the lore of the pioneers. Early traders who settled on the banks of the Saskatchewan at Edmonton, the first missionaries who established at St. Albert, did so even when the oldest settled districts of Eastern Canada were new and undeveloped.

But the pioneer spirit in Alberta has not died out, it continues as a living, pulsating influence. Oil seekers in the uncharted areas north of the Athabasca, veterans in the Wanham district north of Peace River, bulldozers pushing aside the forest at Mayerthorpe, Barrhead and Lac la Biche.

Realization of the wild frontiers still to be pushed back, relentlessly, in our rich province, holds great promise for the future of every Albertan, his children and grandchildren.

Is it too much to expect this growing province to boast a million population in 1960? Will Edmonton have half a million citizens by 1970?

Alberta's Biggest Oil Fortune

From Montreal Standard

The man who has drilled more dry holes than anyone else in Alberta looked around the crowded salon of Calgary's friendly Palliser Hotel where 242 members and guests of the Western Canadian Petroleum Association were celebrating its first anniversary. "Three years ago," he mused, "the members could have met around a table, yet it's my guess that there's $100,000,000 in personal wealth represented here tonight."

The estimate was promptly pooh-poohed. (The income tax collector is not a popular figure in Canada's oil lands). Yet, even halved, the sum is still sufficiently sizable to give an indication of the extent of the oil boom.

Someone pointed out that Eric Harvie was not present. "If he were," said the wealth guesser, "you could add on another $50,000,000 at least."

This is no time to question his estimate. The story of Eric Harvie is not representative of the men who put their faith in oil, took chances, made and lost small fortunes or grew lean in depression days before cashing in on the bonanza, but it is easily one of the most fascinating.

Harvie, now a man in his middle fifties, was a well-established Calgary lawyer who had married into the wealthy Southam publishing family. Among his clients was an English firm, Western Leaseholds, which 20 years ago bought up the mineral rights of 500,000 acres of freehold land checkerboarded across northern and central Alberta. The idea was to develop coal deposits but after a while the company become dormant. In lieu of legal fees, said to amount to around $48,000, Harvie took over the rights.

He had hopes of being able to dispose of them, but because of the scattered nature of the property there were few takers. Later, of course, this weakness was to prove to be its strength.

Eventually he made a deal with the Shell Oid Co., whose geologists had an early hunch about Alberta oil, whereby they took an option on some of the land. Seismograph tests were encouraging, but the war had increased Shells world-wide commitments. Six days before Imperial Oil spudded in (started drilling) what was to be Leduc No. 1, Shell pulled out—a decision which still causes Shell men to pull their hair in exasperation when they think of it. Although it was not immediately apparent, Harvie's luck was still holding. Had Shell gone ahead and succeeded, his royalties would have been slight.

Harvie is said to have disposed of some of his Redwater interests for a cool $10,000,000 in cash and to have a 12½ per cent royalty on oil produced by Imperial on property obtained from Western Leaseholds.

Unlike most oil men who will talk the hind leg off a derrick, Eris Harvie is reticent and retiring, and although enjoying the respect that almost inevitably goes with considerable wealth, is not considered as belonging to the select group who were born with petroleum in their veins. Success is no criterion. Two of the best loved are Tom Brook and Basil Jones, who haven't brought a well in yet. When they do it will be a popular win. They are always in there trying and, as Art Mewburn, one of the successful old-timers says: "If you sit in a poker game long enough, you're bound to win.'

Scriptural Meditations

By AINSLEY BLAIR

The theme of redemption is one that the angels desire to look into; it will be the science and the song of the redeemed throughout the ceaseless ages of eternity. Is it not worthy of careful thought and study now? The infinite mercy and love of Jesus, the sacrifice made in our behalf, call for the most serious and solemn reflection. We should dwell upon the character of our dear Redeemer and Intercessor. We should meditate upon the mission of Him who came to save His people from their sins. As we thus contemplate heavenly themes, our faith and love will grow stronger, and our prayers will be more and more acceptable to God, because they will be more and more mixed with faith and love. They will be intelligent and fervent. There will be more constant confidence in Jesus, and a daily, living experience in His power to have to the uttermost all that come unto God by Him.

Standing at the Crossroads

By JOSEPH C. HARSCH
In The Christian Science Monitor

WASHINGTON.—The time has really come for Americans to put up or shut up.

Ever since the end of the war we have been talking a coalition of the free world which would stand up against Russia.

We have made major contributions toward the building of that coalition—the Marshall Plan, Atlantic Pact, and all the rest. We have nothing to be ashamed of.

But not until now have we really, seriously, been faced with the question whether we ourselves are ready to join it and support it all the way.

We were not faced with that question because until now there always was some other country or condition standing in the way of fulfillment. So we were in favor of something which was not obtainable.

It's easy to be in favor of something which can't be had.

But it's different now. The London conference made the difference. It wasn't that the conference itself did anything big or spectacular. Technically, it only set up an Atlantic Pact council of deputy foreign ministers to manage co-operation among the signatories of the Atlantic Pact (which just improved on an organizational structure which already existed) and issued a lot of good resolutions.

The French, in one of the really great reversals of policy of all time, have decided to bury the old feud with Germany and enter into a real economic partnership with their traditional enemy. This is the opposite of what France did after 1914. It is what we have condemned the French for five years for not doing. It is a move which could be the foundation of a real revival of the economic and political might of western Europe. It probably is the biggest act of French political initiative since before 1914.

Less spectacular, but perhaps equally important, is the British discovery that an inter-European payments scheme can be worked out. The European "integration" which Paul G. Hoffman of ECA has been preaching suddenly is lifted from the will-o'-the-wisp level to the level of attainable reality. Here is potential power—economic, political and military.

A French-German, plus British, plus Canadian and American, coalition would be the biggest, strongest coalition ever forged in history. It would make the West so strong that only sheer madness in the Kremlin ever would induce the Russians to challenge it with force. What is more, it can be had. There it is—an attainable condition!

Now it's up to us to decide whether we really want it.

If we really want to settle the cold war without a shooting war, here is the way of doing it.

Dear Sir—I am agreeably surprised to see such a good little paper as you publish for Hardisty. It is well edited and well printed. These towns along the Pipeline are fortunate to have your papers as only two nave their own printing plants and the others wouldn't have their own papers if you weren't printing them. I wish these Canadian girls were half as good as your paper. I was in Europe during the war and only wish I had married one of those European girls. Canadian females are 100 per cent barflies and will take a man for every cent he has. European girls give a man what he needs most—a real wife, to be proud of. In case I haven't made myself clear, you Alberta girls are just plain no good.

PENSION DOUBT

Dear Sir—Our great French-Canadian Prime Minister, Rt Hon. Louis St. Laurent has shown his deep regard for all Canadians among those who have lost their homes through flood and no fault of their own.I agree with the ministers that more pensions can only come from more taxes. This will be a rude jolt to some who think all they have to do is ride along with any pressure movement to get that "pie in the sky.' Our grandfathers didn't worry too much about security, they wanted freedom and the right to work out their own security. That kind of spirit is what made our country great. Let's keep it great.

Alberta Gas Could Serve 3 Millions In Northwest

More than two million people in the Pacific Northwest are immediately available as customers for surplus gas from Alberta, Fulton W. Copp of Seattle, market survey specialist for Northwest Natural Gas Company, told the Petroleum and Natural Gas Conservation Board meeting in Calgary this week.

Nearly another million would be added in the next decade, Mr. Copp thought.

He presented the application by Alberta Natural Gas Company for permission to export natural gas. He recommended a southern route that would serve southern B.C., State of Washington and Vancouver.

Mr. Copp outlined three basic routes available under the company's plans. An all-Canadian route through southern British Columbia to the coast, then turning south into the United States, should develop sales of 66 billion cubic feet per year after five years; a route which dipped south from B.C., to cross through the State of Washington, returning to Vancouver at the coast, with a branch line south to Seattle and Portland could be expected to develop sales of 75 billion cubic feet of gas per year; and a northern route through the Yellowhead Pass, the interior of B.C. and the Allison Pass to the coast and south, might produce sales of 58.9 billion cubic feet annually in five years time, Mr. Copp reported.

"The population which will be served by the distributing companies to which Alberta Natural Gas Company and Northwest Natural Gas Company proposes to sell gas," Mr. Copp said, "is estimated to be presently in excess of 2,000,000 and is estimated to reach 2,800,000 within the next decade.

He told the Board of the many needs for natural gas in the Pacific Northwest. "From natural gas available, the commercial uses in the area will be greatly increased for baking, cooking, space-heating, and for steam and hot water, he said.

The big atomic energy plant at Hanford, Wash., would not be included in service provided by an all-Canadian route along the border, Mr. Copp said. Only a southern route could serve "these consumers, as well as the consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada Ltd.; Fernie, Cranbrook, Kimberly, Nelson, Creston, Trail and Rossland, in British Columbia, and Sponkane, Wash.," he said.

Noting that the principal fuel now used in the areas to be served by a gas pipeline was oil, and that chances of gas sales depended on "gas being easily competitive on a price basis with fuel ail," Mr. Copp told the Board "the lower initial cost, lower operating and maintenance costs and higher load factor of Route B (which would dip through Washington State) would make possible a better competitive price for industrial gas."

Thirty years is not so long in the life of a nation, but in 1920 northern Alberta was a wilderness giant, from which an empire has been carved out. Life In Europe's Refugee Camps Still Grim Half Decade After War

By GEORGE MURRAY

EDITOR'S NOTE:—This is the last in a series of articles written for Community Publications and the South Edmonton Sun by George Murray, eastern Canadian newspaperman who has just completed a tour of Europe's displaced person camps, investigating the condition of the Old World's refugees a half decade after the war.

FALLINGBOSTAL, Germany.—Food standards in displaced persons camps are just above subsistence level. The International Refugees Organization has established a daily ration of 2,230 calories as a desirable minimum (the average daily consupmtion in Canada is about 3,500 calories) but even this standard is sometimes difficult to maintain. Special food supplements are given to children, pregnant and nursing ofmen, the sick, and heavy workers, all carefully calculated.

Feeding in most camps is communal. In the food store everything is neatly stacked and tidy, and the huge brown German-baked loaves are fresh and of good quality. The contents of the bins tally with the records available.

In the kitchen, large boilers give off clouds of steam and red-faced cooks and assistants are dashing to and fro. In one boiler stew is bubbling. There are plenty of potatoes, chunks of meat, and vegetables, and the whole boiling cauldon give off an appetizing aroma. Bread is sliced in a machine and dollops of margarine and jam are smeared on the freshly cut slices.

In another boiler is coffee substitute, the notorious German "ersatz" variety, and already milk and sugar are being added. The menu is stew, bread, jam and margarine and a mu gof ersatz coffee. Not much of a meal, perhaps, but the best that can be done.

Five years after defeat of Germany, Europe's uprooted millions still face almost hopeless existence.

The dining room is a huge room in which tables and forms are laid out in orderly rows. The walls are bleak but the monotony is broken here and there by gay Estonian and Latvian flags. There is no luxury but the barrack tables are cleanly scrubbed and the whole impression given is one of clean utility. Plates, spoons and mugs will be brought by the D.P.'s themselves, and by the door are tubs of hot water for washing up.

At the other end of the dining room is a smaller kitchen where the children's meals are prepared. They get a supplementary issue and the food is therefore cooked separately. Here the meal is much the same, but there is fresh fruit in addition to the stew, bread and jam, and vats of cocoa.

What else is there in the camp? Well, there is the school, and the children look extremely well. Little blonde girls with ribbons and pigtails, wearing bright woollen jumpers, and close-cropped boys. They learn in their native language but English is also taught for a few hours a week.

Nearly all of them have spent a fortnight in the World's YMCA summer camp where the tents were pitched on the banks of a stream in a beautiful part of the country a few miles away. At these camps, organized sport takes place, and there is a campfire in the evening with communtiy singing.

The YMCA provides additional food from its own resources. It is quite obvious that the change has done the children good.

There is also a kindergarten and in addition 40 children from the camp are attending secondary school in a camp a few miles away. The headmaster tells us that 15 persons from the camp are at a vocational training school. This is very important. Few opportunities exist for the professionally qualified D.P.'s. Skilled tradesmen are favored.

Vocational training also fulfils a useful purpose as there are training courses of short duration designed to refresh skills which have been dulled through disuse during the war years, or to provide elementary training for young workers.

In this camp the D.P.'s themselves conduct a good deal of informal "on the job" training, and the camp shoemaker, carpenter, electrician and tailor, for example, are engaged in training aspirants for their own type of work.

At the other side of the barrack square is the camp hospital and dispensary presided over by the DPACCS nurse. It is big enough for 20 patients and has a medical inspection room for daily patients requiring consultation and treatment. There is also a dental clinic wihch caters to neighboring camps as well as this one.

An ambulance is available for transporting patients to hospitals when necessary. The hospitals used are German and D.P.'s who are socially insured and are also to use them free. Hospital bills for others are met by D.P. Division through IRO funds.

It is with an air of pride that the doctor shows us through the five wards, each having four beds, which make up the sick bay. The linen is spotless and by the open windows are vases of huge roses, yellow and red. The dispensary is equally clean and is remarkably well stocked with drugs.

In the health program, D.P. Division and IRO utilize to the full the services of the D.P.'s themselves to maintain a high standard of health. The aim is to prevent disease as well as cure it, and to this end the DPACCS doctor inspects lavatories and drains, tests water in the camp once a week and carires out immunization of the D.P.'s as a routine measure against smallpox, typhoid, diphtheria, and against epidemic typhus, cholera, and yellow fever when necessary.

Clinics for mothers, special centres for underweight children and a comprehensive tuberculosis survey using mass radiography are among other health measures in operation.

Statistically, in terms of birth and death rates, incidence of disease and other criteria, the level of health of the DPACCs as a whole compares favorably with that of the western European nations in the immediate pre-war years. It must be admitted, however, that the low calorific value of he food has produced in some areas lowered resistance to sickness and an increase in infant mortality and tuberculosis.

The DPACCs supervisor, the fourth Britisher of the team, is giving out clothing in the clothing store. Each camp inhabitant has a clothing card on which issues are recorded. If the state of a person's clothing, coupled with proof on the card that he or she has had no issue for a considerable time, justifies the issue of further garments, then the person is called to the store with others in a similar pilght and issue is made. There is a queue of about 40 DPs outside, while inside a storeman is handing out trousers to the foremost man. It is like the army and fitting out recruits at the quartermaster's store. The recipient mutters something in Estonian and stretches out his hands to indicate that his pants are too big. The supervisor, an ex-army sergeant, deals with the complaint in time-honored fashion.

"Got a wife, haven't you?" he shouts. "Or a girl friend, haven't you? Tell 'er to knock a bit off the bottom, can't you? Now then, next!"

The Estonian understands not a word, but appreciates the futiilty of argument and humbly accepts his trousers. An entry is made on his clothing card and business continues.

In the store itself we see every conceivable item, neatly stacked on shelves, ranging from battle-dress dyed blue to corsets. Each pile has its stack card and we check a few items to see if the pile agrees with the figure on the card. Clothing has a high market value in Germany these days.

Next to the clothing store is the amenity store whire such things as sweets, cigarettes, toilet soap and razor blades are kept. Each DP receives a few items each month.

The Voluntary Society, in this camp a team of the Salvation Army, also give out a few supplies of clothing and supplementary food to the really needy. They help in welfare matters and organize serving and cooking classes. The DPACCS commander says they are a real asset and he is very glad of their services.

On the welfare side the camp is not too bodly off. A children's playground with swin geess, 6d S ground with swings, see-saws and roundabouts has been improvised. There is a Y.M.-Y.W.C.A. room with library, magazines, chess and other games, where the unemployed can sit at tables and while away the long hours. There is a Boy Scout and Girl Guides room, and a hall in which a stage has been erected. Here visiting concert parties are housed, and frequently operas such as "Madame Butterfly" and "The Barber of Seville" are performed in improvised costumes by former members of the Latvian State Opera.

THE END.

Business In Canada Said Getting Better

The Canadian economy appears to be on a steadier course than seemed likely at the turn of the year, comments the Bank of Montreal in its monthly Business Review. Broadly speaking, two factors, neither clearly foreseeable at the beginning of 1950, have been responsible.

"At home, new capital outlays, instead of falling below last year's figures, appear to be headed for a new peak," the B of M says. "Externally, the general revival of business activity in the United States has maintained a demand for Canadian exports to that market sufficiently buoyant almost to offset contractions elsewhere."

Now completed, the official survey of 1950 capital outlays planned by business and government anticipates an expenditure of $3,600 millions, the report continues.

"Such a program represents an increase of $170 millions, or five per cent, over comparable 1949 outlays and, if accomplished, will not only exceed anything previously achieved in both physical and dollar terms but will account for an unusually high proportion, 22 per cent, of the country's total production of goods and services."

The statement notes that direct governmental expenditures of a capital nature—federal, provincial and municipal, are expected to be higher by $96 millions. Investment plans of enterprises, institutions and housing projects under governmental jurisdiction are raised by $79 millions.

Private capital outlays, while likely to show a slight reduction, would still represent an anticipated 69 per cent of the 1950 aggregate.

Noting that last year's "moderate economic set-back in the United States was unaccompanied by any corresponding dip in Canadian business barometers," the bank believes that this "unusual divergence in business trends" was due to "the sustainig influence of resource development in this country."

"But, having ridden out the U.S. recession, the Canadian economy now appears to be benefitting from the improved economic weather in the neighboring country."

The U.S. market's buoyancy, combined with devaluation, has been responsible for "recent striking gains in our shipments" across the border, the bank finds. In every month since last October the Canadian dollar value of merchandise exports to the United States has shown a progessively greater increase over the same month a year earlier.

"Since the beginning of this year imports of British merchandise have been running above, and exports to Britain below, a year ago," the Bank of Montreal reports. "The characteristic balance in favor of Canada, which exceeded $53 millions last October, was thus rapidly reduced in the four succeeding months and actually turned adverse to the extent of over two millions in March, the first time that Canada has been a net debtor to the United Kingdom in merchandise trade account since March, 1932."

Onoway Girl Wins Nursing Award

By Constance Reiner

ONOWAY. — Miss Beatrice Evans of Onoway, has been awarded the Montreal Royal Victoria Hosiptal prize for general proficiency in nursing.

In her second year as nurse-in-training, she received the intermediate class award of $25 donated by the medical staff. Presentation was made at the graduation exercises recently.

It is the intention of Miss Evans to further continue her studies, now in the third year, at the operating room at Royal Victoria. She will afterwards take a post-graduate course in neurology.

And in N. Y. They're Running For Cover

Georgia Sothern, who's given out with her share of bumps over the years, thinks the New York cops are bumping her around. And the red-haired stripeuse is going to bump them back—right into Supreme Court, as a matter of fact.

The present trouble started last year, just before Georgia went on tour. A couple of bluecoats caught her act and gave it a bad critique. On returning to New York, Georgia was called on the carpet by police and her license to perform in Gotham cabarets suspended indefinitely.

"I've got to fight this thing all the way," explains the 37-year-old entertainer. "Trouble like this is bad for the profession. Why, I could go out right now and give a real goodie-goodie show and still be criticized. You know what people would say? They'd say, "She's immoral. Look, you can see the dimple on her knee!"

It didn't have anything to do with the dimple on Georgia's knee, but centred around her famous cigarette dance and the alleged twirling

The main beef by the cops was of a big tassel. There also was reference to "bumps, grinds and gyrations of the midsection of the body."

"Tassel!" snorts Georgia. "Ha, I never use one. Ask anybody who's seen me work. I don't need a tassel. I'm a dancer—an artist. I know that sounds corny, but there's more to this business than just taking of your clothes. If there wasn't, how would I get along? I'm no glamor-puss, but I make out all right. So I must be able to do something besides undress."

When Georgia appeared before assistant Police Commisisoner Meehan, she carried her evidence in a paper bag. It consisted of a bra and a pair of elastic tights with sequins on the back.

Good Health for ALBERTANS

DEATH IN THE WATER

In June Canadian newspapers once again begin to carry items telling of lives lost in drowning accidents. Many of these fatalities could have been prevented if the persons involved had followed basic safety rules. Keep your name out of the obituary column by swimming sanely. Don't swim alone, or immediately after a meal, or in unfamiliar waters. And don't show off in the water . . . can't afford to gamble and lose.

ONE OF THE GANG

A child's desire to conform . . . to be "one of the gang" . . . is a basic urge and parents should make an effort to allow a child to follow this instinct. Stubborn insistence on a different form of dress, different views and habits on the part of the parents may assume major importance to a child. Within reason the child should be allowed to be like other children in his neighborhood.

BEGINNING AT HOME

Mental health begins at home. Medical men know that the foundations of good mental health are laid in childhood . . . the child who grows up in a happy home where he is loved and wanted has a far better chance of normal mental adjustment than the child whose family life is the scene of continual bickering and disagreement. Your child's mental health may be largely in your hands.

GETTING "IN CONDITION"

With the onset of the vacation season the urge to "get in condition" overpowers a great many otherwise normally easygoing individuals. They plunge into a round of swimming, hiking, golf and other violent activities without regard for their age or physical condition. More often than not the results of this sudden bout of exertion are far from good and they can be serious. Exercise in moderation until the body gets used to the idea.

Letter to Louisa

When Marriage in View, Education or Cooking?

Dear Louisa:

My daughter lacks a year of finishing her college course. She is engaged to a fine young man who will probably be financially able to get married in one or two years.

Now, our problem is this:

As our daughter expects to get married, why spend all of the money necessary for her to finish her course, when she might better be learning how to cook, sew and keep house.

We are able to send her, but we are not wealthy people. What would advise us to do?

MOTHER.

Answer:

Send your daughter back to college to finish her course and get her diploma. These are perilous times and no one knows when she may find it necessary to earn a living. She will find it much easier to do this if she has her degree and has specialized in some one thing.

A year or two years is a good while and many things can happen to a perfectly good engagement. One of the other of the couple may change their minds or meet with an accident.

Many women who have thought themselves financially secure have been rudely awakened and had to go to work when they had families who had to be taken care of.

So the wise thing is to be prepared. If you have the money, consider it well spent if it makes your child independent as far as making a living is concerned.

LOUISA.

Dear Louisa:

We are considered well-to-do in our community and we have only one son. He is a fine boy and is working but doesn't make a large salary, although he has good prospects for advancement. He has been engaged to a girl four years and is anxious to get married. However, he will not be able to do so without our help.

Now, my husband is a selfmade man and he thinks that my son should wait until he is able to support a wife.

What do you think?

A. P. L.

Answer:

He is your only child, he is a fine boy and he has been engaged four years—this is what you write.

Well, he will inherit everything you have some day and, under the circumstances, it seems to me that it would not only be generous but sensible to give him a certain allowance each month—enough to enable him to get married. When he gets his raise, you can stop it, but helping him would probably make all four of you happy without hurting any of you.

I do not think that old people should deprive themselves to give their children luxuries, but you are well able to help your boy and he is not a loafer or one who will lay down on the job because he is being helped.

In some countries, the parents of a young couple always settle a certain sum on them when they get married and it seems to me to be a fine plan if they are able to do so.

Good luck,

LOUISA.

20th Century FARM NEWS

70,000 Dairy Farmers Throughout Province

There are 70,000 dairy farmers in Alberta who are the owners of 315,000 cows. Last year these cows produced 1,671,075,000 pounds of milk which was sold in its natural state, manufactured into butter, cheese, ice cream and other products.

The total value of all such products was $52,560,000. The value of butter alone was $18,334,000, of which $10,500,000 worth was exported from this province.

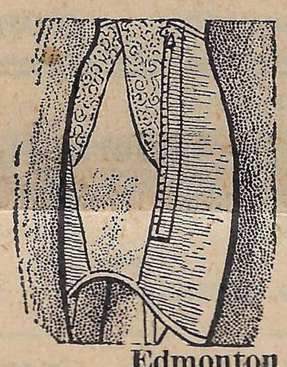

The extent to which margarine is being anufactured and sold in Canada is endangering the dairy business not only in Alberta but right across the Dominion. Margarine is a synthetic product made mostly from cottonseed oil imported from the southern United States. It can be manufactured cheaply.

If the trend towards margarine continues the whole dairy business in Canada will be seriously harmed. Dairymen will dispose of their cows and a milk shortage will develop. Milk cannot be made from cottonseed oil.

Dairying is important to Alberta's economy. It provides an alternative to straight grain growing, is an important factor in the maintenance of soil fertility, and permits the use of certain land which cannot be profitably used for other farming activities. The dairy cow made the state of Wisconsin one of the wealthiest in the United States. The dairy cow can do the same for Alberta if given a reasonable opportunity.

Control Smut in Oats and Barley

Today, it is possible to treat seed-grain rapidly, effectively and at low cost. Consequently, there is no reason why the farmers of Western Canada should allow the smuts of oats and barley to steal hundreds of thousands of dollars from them in 1950.

The Need. Clear-cut evidence of the need for positive action on the part of western farmers with respect to the control of the coarse grain smuts will be found in the accompanying table. (Results of smut tests made by Line Elevators Farm Service).

Smut in Farmers' Seed Samples of Oats and Barley

Crop and Year	No. of Samples Tested	% of Samples Tested Carrying Smut	% of Samples Tested With Smut Balls Present
Oats
1947	2,800	88.3	2.6
1948	2,405	85.9	8.1
1949	1,655	80.2	6.3
Barley
1947	687	94.2	46.3
1948	1,369	92.4	25.6
1949	1,106	90.0	23.1

Recommended Treatments. The seed disinfectants (chemicals) recommended for the control of the coarse grain smuts are Ceresan, Leytosan and Panogen. On no account should the new dust treatment called Anticarie be used on oats and barley for smut control. Anticarie just won't control the smuts of oats and barley, so why use it. Formalin, although it gives good smut control, tends to injure the seed, sometimes quite seriously. It is not recommended for the treatment of seed-grain.

Exercise Care. Seed of oats and barley should first be thoroughly cleaned and then treated with Ceresan, Leytosan or Panogen, according to manufacturer's directions. Be sure and treat the seed at least 7 days in advance of seeding. The mercury seed disinfectants are poisonous to humans and livestock. They must be handled with care. If you want to save dollars in 1950, treat all your seed of oats and barley for smut control.

End Seen Near Of Canada-UK Wheat Pacts

LONDON. — Canada and Britain have agreed to end the system of bilateral wheat agreements between them, which has been so strongly criticized in the United States, wheat experts in London said recently.

The decision, which experts believe the two governments took in the London discussion last week between British officials and Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe, the Canadian trade minister, is not expected to be made known officially until next week.

Under it, Canada and Britain will have no firm bulk contract for Canadian wheat after the current four-year agreement expires July 31, experts believe.

Canada would simply compete for Britain's market for dollar area wheat within the price limits of the International Wheat Agreement. For next season these limits are a maximum of $1.98 and a minimum of $1.43 a bushel.

Grain experts thought that Canada might capture the whole of British markets for dollar-wheat. This season the United States got a small part of it. But Canada would have to win the market in open competition, instead of by a bilateral pact.

It was believed that the British officials told Mr. Howe that Britain expected to need between 100,000,000 and 120,000,000 bushels of dollar area wheat during the 12 months starting August 1.

Farmers in Alberta and industrialists in the east are keeping a wary eye on wheat negotiations currently underway between Canada and the United Kingdom.

Both feel that the level of prosperity to be enjoyed in this country next fall and through 1951 will depend to a considerable degree on the outcome of the negotiations.

Despite Canada's spectacular industrial growth in the last 10 years, agriculture remains a key factor in her economy and wheat is the major agricultural product. Since the U.K. traditionally is the biggest wheat purchaser, the negotiations are bound to have a far-reaching effect on the economy of the country.

Canada's wheat salesman—Trade Minister Howe—returned to Ottawa Friday after a series of talks in the U.K. He has given no inkling of the outcome of the talks except to deny reports that the wheat negotiations had broken down over the question of price.

FUA Holds Meeting In Edmonton

Executive of the Farmers' Union of Alberta met June 1, 2 and 3 in Edmonton. Among the major items dealt with were wheat prices, freight rates, the membership drive, the The Manitoba Farmers' Flood Fund campaign, and the district conventions.

Final plans for sending a joint delegation to Ottawa requesting a boost on the final payment for wheat sold under the Canadian-British wheat agreement were discussed. Present Ottawa plans call for a payment that would bring the final price to $1.85 a bushel. The FUA executive will seek a payment to bring the total of $2.00 per bushel, thus compensating in part for the disappointing floor price of $1.40 per bushel set for 1950 wheat.

The wheat price situation was further aggravated recently with the announcement of another increase in freight rates, and this factor has stirred the FUA executive to a renewed effort for a higher final payment on wheat sold in previous years. Carl J. Stimpfle, FUA president, will head the delegation to Ottawa immediately on the return of Hon. C. D. Howe from overseas. He will be joined by a representative of the Saskatchewan Farmers' Union.

The executive will make final arrangements for several district conventions particularly the ones to be held in June. These are scheduled for Hanna, June 14, Olds, June 23, Stony Plain, June 24 and Ponoka, June 26.

The province-wide Manitoba Farmers' Flood Fund, conducted by the individual locals was also reviewed.

Record Year

The petroleum industry drilled an estimated 6,680 "wildcat" wells in 1949, the largest number in any year since the discovery of oil in 1859. "Wildcats" are exploratory wells drilled in unproved territory. Since only one in five is a success, they involve great financial risk.

Gets Early Start in Radio

Bobby Taylor, 13-year-old Vancouver radio and film actor, singer, pianist and saxophonist, has long cherished an ambition to be a radio announcer. And because he feels that an announcer should also be capable of taking over the controls, he often works in a little engineering practice in the control rooms at the CBC's Vancouver studios between rehearsals for drama broadcasts. Here he is in front of the turn-tables, complete with earphones, learning how to start a record "on cue". Bobby is starring in a film on child delinquency soon to be released by the National Film Board.

BRIEREVILLE NEWS NOTES

BRIEREVILLE—The ball team of Briereville was quite victorious on the 24th of May. They won first prize. Good going boys.

Quite a few people turned out at the ball diamond here on Sunday to see a supposed game between Briereville and Spedden. To our disappointment Spedden never came. But we do hope to see them up some time.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Anderson are the proud parents of a baby girl. Congratulations.

There was quite a few of the Briereville gang who attended the wedding dance at McRae of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Thompson.

A few weeks ago Mr. E. Whitford and son Sid, were visiting at the home of Mrs. Henderson and family.

Messrs. Norman and Louis Cromarty, Mr. Robert Sinclair and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Thompson were Sunday evening visitors at the home of H. Thompson. We also saw Merritt, Lynn, Carrie and the boys there.

Mr. A. Reid had to take his little girl to the Vilna hospital last Thursday. We do hope it's nothing serious.

Mrs. Turgeon is quite busy practising the children, ready for the track meet in Lac la Biche on June 2.They had the Grandin school children visit their school for a ball game. Then they returned the game to Grandin. That's what I call co-operation. Best of luck Mrs. Turgeon and students.

Robert Whitford of Lac la Biche was out for a few days getting his land worked and seeding done.

The children around here are getting the 'flu or just getting over it. It's a kind of a croup with fever. The weather must have something to do with that.

Mrs. G. S. Liddle is away on a trip to the city.

Mrs. Henderson had as her visitors on Sunday her mother Mrs. Taylor and sister Mrs. Morgansen and family and Mrs. Nelson and son Floyd.

Ladies' Society Holds Meeting

HYLO.—At the home of Mrs. Mary Grandish, the Hylo Ladies' Society met on June 1 to discuss final details regarding the June 11 annual picnic. Committees were formed when each lady drew a slip out of a hat showing her job for the day.

Here again it is worthy to comment on Hylo apparent community spirit. At least four or five ladies turned out who are not society members, in order that plenty of help would be assured.

The hostess served a hearty lunch and the olives were particularly enjoyed.

Concrete Machine To Be Made

MAYERTHORPE. — Vets Concrete Works, organized by Milton Drew, L. Climie and E. J. Robinson, all of Mayerthorpe, are in process of having a concrete block machine manufactured by the Mayerthorpe Welding and Machine Shop. They hope to be manufacturing concrete blocks within a month. It will be the only concrete block plant between Wihtecourt and Edmonton. They are also in the cement mixing contracting business and build cement sidewalks, house walks and basement foundations, doing that right now. The business will be located on the banks of the Little Paddle river on the outskirts of Mayerthorpe. The size of the blocks manufactured will be 8x16, which is the standard size for this type of block. The price of blocks will complete favorably with any other manufacturer in Alberta. This will be of great service to the public in this district as it costs 10c per block delivery charges from Edmonton to Mayerthorpe.

In the past 20 years the average Canadian's work week has dropped from 51.5 hours to 42.3 hours.

GOODFISH LAKE NEWS BRIEFS

A huge timber wolf was sighted near Spedden by a party of Goodfish Lake shoppers, returning home. A young deer has also been noticed in the vicinity. Perhaps the wolf was licking his chops over the prospect of fresh venison.

Little Florence Whitford who was severely scalded at home and has been in Vilna hospital, is slowly recovering. As she is only three years old we hope that soon the unhappy accident will be a thing of the past.

Howard Hunter is home again, after four days in hospital at Vilna.

Mr. Bert Camire, our genial assistant superintendent from Saddle Lake, paid our community a fleeting visit on Wednesday. We are always pleased to see him.

The United Church pulpit was occupied by Nick Boel from MacRae on Sunday. A large crowd listened to his informal address.

A threat of fire alarmed the school children as well as some passing citizens last week. The new school was in the line of a bush fire which was sending thick waves of dense smoke in a business-like fashion in our direction. Mr. Marcus Sparkling Eyes rounded up some of the parents who prepared to help fight the danger with, unfortunately, a very limited prospect of water. Fortunately the wind changed, and the smoke cleared off in another direction. Perhaps the children would have welcomed a holiday! The threatened danger brought home to all the parents the value of fire extinguishers.

On Monday, May 29, in the Roman Catholic Church, Father Le Calvez united in holy matrimony Sara May Favel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Favel, and Alex Cardinal, son of Mrs. Justine Flora Cardinal. Miss Delia Cardinal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cardinal, made an attractive bridesmaid, and Mr. Jule Half supported the groom. Long life and many blessings to the happy couple.

The nine-months son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sparkling Eyes was laid to rest in the Catholic cemetery last Sunday. Our hearts go out to the young parents, in view of the sad circumstances surrounding the child's last illness. It was not a case of neglect to seek medical assistance. They took the baby to Vilna hospital, but report that the authorities there found nothing wrong. The sudden and unexpected death of the child came as a shock to the young parents and to the community.

Mr. Colin Shirt spent last weekend at Kikino, visiting friends.

KIKINO BRIEFS

There was quite a large jack fish killed in the Beaver River here in Kikino by a eight-year old boy which the fish measured 36 inches long and 15 inches round. The little boy used a stick to kill the fish. His folks used two pounds of lard to fry the fish.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Thompson their wedding dance was held in McRae on the 27th. There were quite a few from Kikino went down to the dance. They all said they had a good time.

New Ideas

The task of moving a bulky 3,800,000-gallon storage tank to a new location didn't faze one oil company. A bulldozer scooped out a ditch 1,000 feet long and two feet deep. Water from a nearby pond was pumped into the miniature canal. The tank was floated to its new site.

Lethbridge Visitor Returns To Hylo

HYLO.—Miss Dolores Zanini returned to her home at Lethbridge after spending over two weeks with her cousin, Mrs. Elda Keehn. Miss Zanini, better known here as "Dodi", went away with a very satisfied impression of Hylo and its residents.

She particularly admired the community spirit shown by the folks here. She marvelled at the extensive number of activities that the people are always engaged in.

Dodi also went away with a roll or two of snaps of the little hamlet taken from practically every angle, even from atop the church steeple.

63% of World's Oil

The U.S. oil industry has produced 63 per cent of all the world's petroleum. Global output from 1859 through 1949 totalled 61.6 billion barrels. Of this, the domestic industry has produced 38.9 billion barrels.

Achievement Day Culminates Grooming Project

HYLO.—On May 30 Hylo class rooms were the scene of a rather spectacular event. The CCC Girls Club sponsored a monster banquet and entertaining program to culminate their project of good grooming for this year.

The banquet was something more than anything Hylo has ever seen before. The senior Hylo class room was set with long guest tables laid with white cloths and centred with bouquets of fragrant fresh flowers. Miss Norma Rayment, assisted by Sonia Sawchuk acted as hostesses. All who were present will agree that the cold dinner was certainly delicious.

Brief speeches concluded the banquet. The Girls Club president Miss Donnie Grandinetti, thanked the many people who together helped to make the club project a possible success.

Miss Curran of the Vermilion School of Agriculture extended congratulations to the club members for their evident efforts and to the people for their cooperative community spirit. She also briefly spoke of the Vermilion School of Agriculture where the efficiency winner will attend club week this summer.

Mr. Godel, district agriculturist for Athabasca promised that his attention to Hylo desires and needs he will triple in the future since he had seen that such inetrest was shown both by the club work and the community support.

Last but not least, Mr. Lynn Hall, superintendent of schools in the Lac la Biche school division, stated that although there are those who wonder why he chose this north area to work in, he enjoys his work. That is because there are a few active points in this territory. Hylo is one of these points. Mr. Hall also stressed the need for a community centre.

A social program of songs followed. The Girls Club sang the theme song "It's a Long Way to Club Perfection." Miss Norma Rayment sang a solo, and Miss Sylvia Sawchuk gave a brief organ recital. Then Miss June Simon as the social convener led all those present in some community singing.

After several announcements had been given by Mr. Godel everyone moved into the junior roof where the evening proceeded in a program of demonstrations, etc. The demonstration depicting the do's and dont's of Table Etiquette was performed by three of the club members, Misses Sylvia and Sonia Sawchuk and Miss Eva Simon. A talk was given by Miss Norma Rayment on planning your wardrobe and grooming, which of course covered points the girls had studied in their course.

To conclude the program a fashion parade was staged in which each girl member modelled a garment or ensemble suitable for a particular occasion and to the girl.

Miss Curran who came to judge all the girls work, spoke again after the parade and said although she was sent to give criticisms she had nothing but congratulations to extend. She was overtaken with the excellent work the club had done considering this was the first such club Hylo has ever had.

The Massey-Harris Roto-Lift One-Way Design
Built to help farmers do a better, faster job of tilling, seeding and weed control, the 8 1-2 ft. size is the ideal implement for the average farm.
Its Roto-Lift device, Instant Depth Control and Flexible Hitch put it away out in front of the conventional one-way disc. It handles easily, backs up, turns to right or left, and you can lessen or increase depth of cultivation in an instant—without stopping your tractor—by just turning the hand wheel within easy reach. The Massey-Harris 8½-ft, One-Way Disc is made to give you years of satisfying service. The number of joints and wearable parts has been cut to a minimum to save you repair bills. And it has alemite lubrication throughout.
More and more farmers are demanding rubber tires in preference to steel wheels for smoother running. Available on special order the No. 509 may be equipped with heavy duty, special tread tires.

Everybody Got Into the Spirit of the Thing

Edmonton has had its soap box derby for several years now, but the sport's apparently still new down east. First derby at Brampton, Ont., was a great event for young and old. Two of the racers can be seen here coming down the ramp. Fourteen cars were entered, with several spills and crashes.

Mother Provincial Passes Away May 23

MORINVILLE.—Morinville lost one of its leading citizens in the death of Rev. Mother St. Wilfrid, Provincial for the Sisters Filles de Jesus. Death occurred in Pincher Creek on May 23 after a long illness. Rev. Mother St. Wilfrid was 54 years of age and had been Provincial for the past two years.

Funeral services took place on Saturday, May 27, in the St. Jean Baptiste church. Msgr. Emile Tessier officiated at the ceremony. The funeral mass was said by Rev. V. Gaudet assisted by Rev. A. Langevin and E. Briere.

His Grace Archbishop J. McDonald was present, also 15 other priests, along with 40 members of her congregation and several other religious orders, as well as a large number of parishioners. Interment took place in the nuns' plot in the Morinville cemetery.

Her death brings to a close a long career of religious and public services, having taugnt school for many years in the different parts of Canada, and having been principal of a business college in the United States.

After her appointment as superior at Notre Dame Convent, she immediately began to modernize this old house with the installation of refrigeration, new equipment for the laundry and kitchen.

She was also responsible for many other improvements for the better living and easier working conditions for both the large number of students and sisters under her supervision.

Rev. Mother St. Wilfrid's elevation as Provincial took place during the Rev. Mother-General of all the congregation's institutions. Since this new order from her superior-general, Mother St. Wilfrid undertook two large hospital extensions and opened new houses in different centres.

She won the admiration of all who came to know her for her attitude in the daily problems that she was called to settle, and her business efficiency. She was respected for her great human understanding and well loved by the children.

Jacques Lavoie Passes Away

LEGAL.—On Sunday is was announced that Mr. Jacques Lavoie had recently died in Pickardville.

The two departed are brother and nephew of Mr. Georges Lavoie of Legal. To the bereaved family we offer sincere sympathies.

Mr. Phillipe Venne and his mother, who is residing in Legal, have attended the funeral of Mr. A. Venne of Warwick. He is a brother to Mr. Venne and is the son of Mrs. M. Venne. Our sincere sympathies to all the family.

Elks' Picnic Is Thoroughly Enjoyed

SANGUDO.—The Sangudo Elks' lodge held its second annual picnic on May 24 at the sports ground.

Fine weather contributed to an ideal day. An estimated crowd of over 1,000 people took in the baseball and other games. Mayerthorpe went home with first prize and Sangudo was runner-up for second prize, after a hard-fought game. Other baseball teams were Rochfort, Jalna and Meadowview.

In the ladies' division Deer lodge came out on the long end of the score by defeating Sangudo. Rochfort was the third ladies' team participating.

Booths selling hot dogs and confectionery were kept busy.

In the evening a picture show was held in the hall which was followed by a dance. Barrhead orchestra did the honors in the music line.

All-in-all it was a very successful and profitable day for the Horned Gentlemen.

The Kentucky Derby has been run every May since 1875.

Of course, you want to make a financial success of your life. It goes without saying you would like to have $2,500, $5,000, $10,000 or more in 10, 15 or 20 years.
